

Jeff Knapp Biography

Based in western Pennsylvania, 20-plus-year veteran outdoor writer/photographer Jeff Knapp covers a wide range of topics. His primary focus, though, is fishing subjects relative to warmwater / coolwater species. Knapp provides weekly outdoors coverage for both the Butler Eagle and Indiana Gazette newspapers. He's contributed hundreds of articles to the Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and New York issues of Game & Fish magazine. Additional credits to state publications include Pennsylvania Angler & Boater (regular contributor/masthead credentials) and the Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio editions of Outdoor News. Knapp has written several articles for In-Fisherman, including its annual Walleye Guide and Bass Guide. He's a frequent contributor to North American Fisherman, as well as North American Fishing Club's e-magazine at www.fishingclub.com. Additional credits include North American Whitetail, and Cabela's Outfitter Journal. In addition to his writing and photo activities, Jeff is also the owner of the Keystone Connection Guide Service (www.keystoneconnection.com), which focuses on smallmouth bass fishing on portions of the Allegheny River, as well as bass and walleye fishing on select lakes.

Between guiding, conducting article research, and fun fishing, Jeff spends well over 100 days per year on the water. Jeff Knapp can be reached at 724-902-6082, and jeffmknapp@gmail.com.
